des professionnels de laboratoire médical

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Beaverton, Ontario – February 14, 2022 – The Canadian Alliance of Medical Laboratory Professionals Regulators (CAMLPR) announced the appointment of its Officers for the 2021-2023 term:

- Janice Jones, Executive Director/Registrar, Nova Scotia College of Medical Laboratory Technologists (NSCMLT) – Chair
- Adam Chrobak, Registrar/CEO, College of Medical Laboratory Technologists of Manitoba (CMLTM) – Vice-Chair

In addition to Janice Jones and Adam Chrobak, senior leaders from CAMLPR's member organizations make up the Board of Directors, currently the following:

- Allison Beresford, President, Newfoundland and Labrador College of Medical Laboratory Sciences (NLCMLS)
- Kim Deydey, Executive Director, Saskatchewan Society of Medical Laboratory Technologists (SSMLT)
- Maggie Fulford, Registrar, College of Medical Laboratory Technologists of Alberta (CMLTA)
- Bernie Plourde, Registrar, College of Allied Health Professionals of Prince Edward Island (CAHPPEI)
- Caroline Scherer, Directeur général et secrétaire, Ordre professionnel des technologistes médicaux du Québec (OPTMQ)
- Stephanie Taylor, Executive Director, New Brunswick Society of Medical Laboratory Technologists (NBSMLT)
- John Tzountzouris, Registrar & CEO, Registration and Professional Practice, CMLTO

CAMLPR, which was officially incorporated in 2018, also recognizes the dedication and support of its inaugural Chair/President, Kathy Wilkie, who served in that leadership role since the inception of CAMLPR. Kathy retired from the College of Medical Laboratory Technologists of Ontario (CMLTO) in the Fall of 2021.

CAMLPR is the voluntary alliance of provincial medical laboratory technology health regulatory authorities across Canada, which are created and defined by provincial legislation and statute. The founding purpose of CAMLPR is to provide an infrastructure and forum through which regulators of medical laboratory professionals in Canada can anticipate and respond to regulatory challenges and opportunities on interprovincial, territorial, national and global levels.
